

Community Presbyterian Church and Fourth Presbyterian Church invite you to be part of a curated journey to locations central to our nation's civil rights movement.

This ten-day pilgrimage to the South—Alabama, Louisiana, and Mississippi—promises to deliver a deeper understanding of and insights into the historic movers and movements of the historic and ongoing civil rights struggles as we learn personal stories, visit museums and historical sites, and experience cultural immersion.

Join us as we

- Worship at the 16th Street Baptist Church, where four young girls were killed in the 1963 Birmingham bombing.
- Tour the National Memorial for Peace and Justice in Montgomery that honors—by name—the 4,000-plus African Americans lynched in twelve Southern states from 1877 to 1950.
- Visit the Whitney Plantation, a former sugar plantation in Edgard, Louisiana, where the history of enslavement in the U.S. is related from the perspective of the enslaved.
- Visit the Emmett Till Intrepid Center, the Glendora, Mississippi, museum that documents the fourteen-year-old's 1955 murder, and the courthouse where the trial of two suspected killers, who were acquitted, occurred.
- Bond with other participants and ancestors of faith by hearing powerful accounts of freed African Americans' struggles, and be inspired by their resilience, while sharing in daily reflections and prayer.

Registration for this unique experience will be open to congregants and friends of Fourth Presbyterian Church and Community Presbyterian Church of Clarendon Hills and to members of the Chicago Presbytery.
