Although it was written for a church dedication, this text is not about a physical structure but a spiritual one. The building is at best only a vessel for the essential love and hope, life and faith, peace and justice, hospitality and nurture that form the worshipping community.

A parish priest at St. Brendan's on the South Side of Chicago in the 1960s was very involved in the local Civil Rights movement and needed something for his youth choir to sing at ecumenical, interracial events. Finding nothing, he wrote this song in a single day.

769 For Everyone Born

1 For ev - ery - one born, a place at the ta - ble, 2 For wom - an and man, a place at the ta - ble, 3 For young and for old, a place at the ta - ble, 4 For just and un - just, a place at the ta - ble, 5 For ev - ery - one born, a place at the ta - ble,

for ev - ery - one born, clean wa - ter and bread, a voice to be heard, a part in the song, a - bus - er, a - bused, with need to for - give,

 to live with - out fear, and sim - ply to be, a shel - ter, a space, a safe place for grow - ing, with wis - dom and grace, di - vid - ing the pow - er, the hands of a child in hands that are wrin - kled, in an - ger, in hurt, a mind - set of mer - cy, to work, to speak out, to wit - ness and wor - ship, for ev - ery - one born, a star o - ver - head, for wom - an and man, a sys - tem that's fair, for young and for old, the right to be - long, for just and un - just, a new way to live, for ev - ery - one born, the right to be free,

This hymn from a noted New Zealand hymnwriter affirms that God's hospitality transcends the barriers erected by human society and that we who have been created in God's image are called to live in ways that reflect our Creator's values: justice and joy, compassion and peace.

The scriptural basis of this text is Romans 15:7, recast as a prayer in the opening two lines of the first stanza. The many implications of living as people who have been accepted by Christ fill the remaining stanzas. This tune was composed for the first publication of this text.
